Foreign Report Trends

High Command Will Receive Assessments

QUANTICO, Va. (AP) — The Defense Department's high command receives today the secret assessments by the intelligence and diplomatic services on trends abroad, including the grave turn of affairs in Japan.

Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates Jr. described as "extremely disturbing" the situation arising out of highly organized leftist opposition to the Japanese ratification of the new U. S. and Japan security treaty.

Arriving Thursday night to preside over the eighth annual conference of civilian and military leaders from Washington and overseas, Gates told newsmen he thought it "very important to get the treaty ratified."

It was obvious that Gates was concerned about what could happen to U. S. military positions in strategically important Japan if the policies of the conservative Kishi government were canceled out by the Communist-inspired opposition.

The United States has two big naval bases, seven major air bases and a naval air facility now in Japan, and considers them important to defense of the Far East.

Here to report on the intelligence and diplomatic outlook were Gen. C. P. Cabell, deputy director of the Central Intelligence Agency, and Raymond A. Hare, deputy undersecretary of state.

Various military commanders also were expected to help fill in the picture along with specialists in other fields.

Among subjects likely to come into the discussion were the Berlin problem, the effect which disarmament agreement could have on military planning, and the position of the United States with the Soviets.

House Studies Foreign Aid Bill Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — The shadow of the shattered Paris conference and Communist-inspired rioting in Tokyo hung over the House today as it met to decide how much money to give the foreign aid program.

The issue boiled down to this: Should the House go along with its Appropriations Committee and provide $3,384,500,000 to finance the program despite President Eisenhower's insistence that the amount is not enough?

Or, should it restore 250 million of the 790½ million dollars cut by the committee from the amount Eisenhower asked for the fiscal year starting July 1?

There was no thought of trying to restore the entire reduction and the chances of putting back the 250 million appeared about even.

Republicans who in the past have led budget-cutting drives in the House found themselves in the position of advocating increases.

Pending when the House adjourned Thursday was an amendment by Rep. John Taber of New York, senior GOP member of the Appropriations Committee, to put back half the 400 million dollars cut by the committee from the two billion sought by the President for direct military assistance.

In the offing was another amendment by Rep. Gerald R. Ford (R-Mich) to restore 50 million of the 124 million trimmed from the original request for 724 million for defense support funds.

Leading the drive for both amendments was Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, GOP floor leader.

Docking's Car Halted For Excessive Speed

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — Gov. George Docking's limousine was stopped for speeding by a man Thursday.

Patrolman Joseph F. Tomasic issued a ticket to the chauffeur, Henry Hollis, 39, of Topeka, and said he clocked the official car at 59 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone.

Tomasic said the woman passenger in the back seat identified herself as Mrs. Docking.

Hollis appeared at headquarters and paid a $10 fine.

Board Is Re-elected

The annual meeting of the Board of Trustees of Bothwell Memorial Hospital was held Tuesday in the conference room at the hospital.

The officers of 1959 were unanimously re-elected. The president is Fred Lange; vice-president, William Schien; secretary, Earl Crawford; and treasurer, Ray Jiedel. Other trustees are: Walter Jessee, Vivian Warren, who was recently appointed to a five-year term, and James F. Dickman, appointed to a one-year term.

Housing Bill Is Reduced

Other Items On Senate Slate Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Passing its third major measure in a single day, the Senate has sent to the House a $1,247,500,000 omnibus housing bill trimmed to meet some objections of President Eisenhower.

Three more pieces of major legislation were on today's schedule as the legislators gave their first solid evidence they are anxious to adjourn before the national political conventions next month.

The housing bill was passed 64-16 just before midnight Thursday. The action capped a 14-hour day which also brought passage of a 40-billion-dollar defense money bill and submission to the states of a constitutional amendment proposal to permit District of Columbia residents to vote for presidential electors.

Ratification within seven years by at least 38 states is necessary to make the amendment effective. District residents now have no vote.

First on today's schedule was a House-passed bill to provide a 7½ per cent pay raise for more more than 1½ million federal employes.

Also up for action today are a 1½ billion-dollar water projects authorization bill and a money measure carrying more than four billion dollars for the health-education-welfare and labor departments.

The Senate housing bill carries funds for college dormitory loans, slum clearance, and a variety of programs designed to help provide housing for veterans and other citizens.

It is similar to a $1,365,000,000 omnibus housing measure already approved by the House Banking committee.

Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala), sponsor of the bill, accepted Republican amendments chopping out of the measure 134 million in federal loan and grant funds.

He refused to go along with a GOP move to cut 50 million off the 350 million in the bill for urban renewal. This was beaten.

Sen. Homer E. Capehart (R-Ind) senior Republican on Sparkman's housing subcommittee, said that with the changes he thinks "this is a satisfactory bill."

Doctor Files Petition

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — A physician who claims about 3,000 patients owe him money filed a petition in bankruptcy in U.S. District Court Thursday.

Dr. Daniel Archie McLaurin, Garner, N.C., listed debts of $44,350 and assets of $61,071. But most of the assets is $50,271 he said patients owe him.

Demonstrate Around Diet Building

Leftists Press Their Drive To Block US-Japan Alliance

TOKYO (AP)—Japanese leftists pressed their advantage and sent 65,000 demonstrators dancing and chanting around Japan's Diet building today in a drive to block the military alliance with the United States. A Socialist legislator was stabbed during the melee.

But Premier Nobusuke Kishi's government was determined to stay in office, until the new treaty with America comes into force Sunday.

After that a government spokesman said, elections will be called and Kishi's Liberal-Democratic party will seek a popular mandate for new laws to curb violence. He accused the postwar American occupation of "weakening Japan and its police so that present international communism can carry out its activities quite freely."

As 25,000 left-wing college students and 40,000 labor unionists snake-danced and chanted slogans around the Diet grounds, a rightist youth stabbed a Socialist leader.

Jotaro Kawakami, a leader of the Socialist opposition to the Japanese-American treaty, was stabbed in the shoulder outside a building in the Parliament compound by an extreme rightist.

The wound apparently was not fatal, but Kawakami fell to the ground, bleeding profusely. His assailant was turned over to the police.

The student mob massed outside Parliament for a new effort to bring down Kishi's government and smash the security treaty was told over loudspeakers of the attack.

"Kawakami's injury is not serious," the announcement said. "There is no danger to his life."

There was a possibility the incident would become a new rallying point for the leftist front backing the riotous campaign against Kishi.

The death of a girl during the mass assault on Parliament Wednesday has already become a symbol for the anti-Kishi forces.

The mood of the students did not turn ugly until night fell, however.

Then some threw stones at police lined up inside the Parliament grounds and beat sticks on the walls of the compound.

"Bakayaro (fool)!" they chanted at the police as they snake-danced through the streets around Parliament.

Socialist Chairman Inejiro Asanuma rushed to confer with Kishi over the stabbing. Asanuma had been refusing for several weeks to meet with Kishi unless the Prime Minister would agree to resign.

Kosaku Shinoda, spokesman for Kishi's Liberal-Democratic party, told newsmen he believed the Premier would resign after ratification of the treaty providing for U.S. military bases in Japan for at least another 10 years.

"It is my opinion Kishi will make a common sense move," Shinoda added.

"If Kishi goes there will be a new leader for the Liberal-Democratic party and with that a lot of the hate will leave."

He said the 64-year-old Premier "has become more or less a scapegoat.

"He has taken on his shoulders all the hatred against conservatives, against Americans, against everything," Shinoda said.

If Kishi can hold on, ratification of the treaty will automatically take effect one second after midnight Saturday. The lower house ratified the treaty May 20. Under Japanese law the treaty is confirmed automatically on the 31st day after unless the upper house acts first or Parliament is dissolved before then.

30 Persons Are Injured In Bus Wreck

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—A cross-country Trailways bus loaded with sleeping passengers fell down a highway embankment during a rainstorm and four automobiles piled up behind it today. At least 30 persons were injured.

Two of the injured were in critical condition at Baptist Hospital. They were driver D. W. Arnold of Shreveport, La., and passenger Jose Campes of South America.

Ambulances from Jackson made shuttle runs between the city hospitals and the wreck site three miles west of nearby Clinton.

The bus was en route from Los Angeles to Miami, Fla.

Some of the injured, interviewed while awaiting emergency treatment at a hospital, gave this version of the crash:

The bus, headed east during a driving rainstorm, swerved to avoid a car which was passing another vehicle.

The bus skidded on the slick pavement and tumbled down a 30-foot embankment.

Requests Refund On Weather Warning System

Pettis County Civil Defense Director Fred Bennett Thursday sent in a request to Colorado Springs, Colo., for a refund of $3,737.23 for Sedalia's portion in the installation and purchase of the weather warning system. The federal government paid the rest of the total cost of $7,474.45.

The actual cost to the city of Sedalia amounted to $1,437.23 for the $10,000 warning system. The city will receive the refund for $2,300 in public contributions and the $1,437.23 from the contingent fund.

Installation of the system, regarded by the federal government as part of the national air warning and attack system, began on Sept. 30, 1959, after Bennett and William E. Miller, then co-chairman of the committee to secure funds, cut most of the red tape to get the operation underway.

The first siren was put up on the Sedalia armory in April, and since then the remaining four sirens have been insalled and hooked up to the main control panel at the police station.

In Contempt, Scorn for Ike

US 7th Fleet Stand Ready; Guarding Ike

Fleet Will Meet Any Show of Force From Communists

ENROUTE WITH EISENHOWER (AP)—The mighty U.S. 7th Fleet kept an unflagging vigil today, ready to meet any Chinese Communist show of force as President Eisenhower steamed north toward the Nationalist Chinese island fortress of Formosa.

Vice Adm. Charles D. Griffin, commander of the fleet, told newsmen the Chinese Reds "might well do something" in an attempt to further mar the President's Asian tour, already blighted by cancellation of his visit to Japan.

Eisenhower relaxed aboard the heavy cruiser St. Paul, flagship of the fleet, after his tremendous reception in the Philippines. He looked weary and grim as he boarded the cruiser in Manila Bay late Thursday night. It was no secret that he was unhappy that he was not going to Japan because of Communist-inspired mob violence.

But he could look forward to an extremely warmhearted reception from the Chinese Nationalists and similar outpourings of friendships in South Korea.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower will arrive in Korea on Sunday —three days earlier than originally planned. He will spend more than 24 hours there instead of the eight hours previously scheduled.

From Korea, the President's big jet will take him to Hawaii for several days and then on to Washington. Hagerty said the plane would refuel en route to Hawaii, but not in Japan. Presumably it will put down at Okinawa or Wake Island.

Weather permitting, a helicopter will whisk Eisenhower from the deck of the St. Paul to Taipei's Pine Hill Airport Saturday to start his 24-hour Formosa visit. If rain continues on Formosa, the St. Paul will land the President at the port of Keelung, and he will be driven the 15 miles into Taipei.

The President spent the morning with his staff revamping his travel plans. Hagerty said he was calm and unruffled despite the international furor resulting from cancellation of his Japanese trip.

Moulder In Hospital, Is Progressing Well

Moulder was admitted Sunday. His office said he is progressing nicely.

Visit Bloc Blame Is On Red Chinese

EN ROUTE WITH EISENHOWER (AP)—It was learned today that President Eisenhower believes the Chinese Communists, with the aim of making anti-American propaganda, are responsible for blocking his visit to Tokyo.

The President, sailing aboard the cruiser St. Paul for Formosa, is known to hold these views:

The Chinese Communists acted in much the same way that Soviet Russia seized on the incident of the U2 spy plane to wreck the summit conference.

It is evident that all is not well between the Soviet Union and Red China.

The President believes Russian and Chinese Communist leaders are most unhappy about the warm mass receptions he received in many countries during his far-ranging travels in the last 10 months.

On the basis of information from well informed sources, the President is convinced that Nikita S. Khrushchev decided he did not want President Eisenhower to visit Moscow. In this view, Khrushchev yanked back his invitation to Eisenhower and said he was doing so because of the incident involving the spy plane downed near Sverdlovsk.

The President concluded that one of the reasons underlying Khrushchev's actions at the summit conference in Paris a month ago was that the Soviet Premier did not want Eisenhower to visit Moscow.

Nationalists Withholding Counterfire

Fire Not Heavy Enough to Warrant Retaliatory Action

TOKYO (AP) — Peiping Radio reported thousands of Chinese Communist guns bombarded Quemoy today in a display of "contempt and scorn" for President Eisenhower.

The guns on the mainland opened up at 8 p.m. local time. The Nationalist Chinese Defense Ministry in Taipei said they eased their fire 55 minutes later.

There were no reports of counterfire by the Nationalists, suggesting that the Communist shelling was not heavy enough to warrant retaliation. The last time the Communists fired more than 1,000 shells at the offshore islands was on Jan. 7, 1959.

Peiping Radio, however, said guns in Fukien province on the Communist mainland lobbed "a furious rain of shells" at Quemoy, as well as the smaller Nationalist islands of Little Quemoy and the Tan Islets.

The President is on his way to visit Formosa, 110 miles to the east of the Natinalist-held offshore island.

Big guns in Fukien province on the Communist mainland opened up at 8 p.m. local time on Quemoy as well as the smaller Nationalist islands of Little Quemoy and the Tan Islets, the broadcast said.

It was an odd-numbered day of the month, meaning that Peiping was sticking to its self-imposed schedule of shooting at the offshore islands only on such days. Today's announcement of the firing to greet Eisenhower omitted mention of firing Saturday, an even-numbered day.

Peiping radio said that today and again Sunday "a demonstration of arms against the United States—shelling to 'welcome and see off' Eisenhower—will be conducted at the Quemoy front." Inhabitants were warned to take cover.

The President is scheduled to arrive off Formosa at 9 a. m. Saturday and leave at 10:10 a.m. Sunday. Thus the bulk of the announced shelling would not take place when he is on the Nationalist Chinese stronghold of Formosa.

The broadcast raised to a fever pitch Communist China's denunciation of Eisenhower's Far Eastern journey.

It branded Eisenhower a "God of plague" who has "crossed from the east side of the Pacific to its west side."

"Waves of opposition have risen everywhere it has been announced he will visit. Eisenhower has been declared persona non grata by the courageous Japanese people," the broadcast said.

An Unhappy Chain of Events

Staggering Propaganda Blows May End Top-level Diplomacy

EN ROUTE WITH EISENHOWER (AP)—A series of staggering propaganda blows within a month, topped off by the blowup of President Eisenhower's trip to Japan, may spell the end of American top-level personal diplomacy for a long time.

The unhappy chain of events, resulting at least in part from faulty estimates and miscalculations by U.S. officials, could also curb the desire of a future president to embark on goodwill visits abroad.

The latest setback, with its possibility of grave repercussions on Japan's fragile democracy, could also lead to a sweeping review of fundamental American strategy for countering the Moscow-Peiping "hate America" campaign.

Seldom in diplomatic history has a U. S. president been buffeted by three successive reverses of the magnitude Dwight D. Eisenhower has had to endure.

In 31 days of repeated crisis, the President has been hit by 1. the furor over American spy plane flights and the subsequent collapse of the summit conference, 2. Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's withdrawal of his invitation to Eisenhower to visit the Soviet Union, and 3. the riot-scarred end of his plan to visit friendly Japan.

The President's aides may argue that Eisenhower emerged with an untarnished reputation because the Communists so obviously exploited developments to their own ends.

But in Eisenhower's own words, the collapse of his Tokyo visit is a blow to his announced quest for peace. Newspapers throughout the free world viewed the events in Tokyo as a victory for world communism. Many said American prestige had suffered a severe blow. Both the Soviet Union and Red China are gloating at the picture of Eisenhower cruising the Pacific with the door to Japan slammed in his face.

Post-mortems are inevitable. All the evidence is not in but enough of the behind-scenes happenings is known to cite these examples of what appears to be a series of miscalculations:

1. Ambassador Douglas MacArthur II in Tokyo was wrong, along with top administration officials, in believing a wave of popular revulsion in Japan would develop and force fanatic leftists to ease off their demonstrations before Eisenhower's arrival.

2. It was an error to conclude that Japanese police could control the demonstrators. This view was not shared by Secret Service Chief U. E. Baughman, who was alarmed three weeks before the trip began.

3. Lower-ranking aides warned it would be courting disaster for Eisenhower to arrive in Japan on June 19, the day the ratification of the controversial U. S.-Japan security treaty took effect.

Now In New Building

Church of Christ to Hold Open House This Sunday

Open house will be held at the newly completed building of The Church of Christ, located at 14th and Stewart, on Sunday afternoon following a sing fest in the church starting at 3 p.m. A basket dinner will be held prior at 12:30 at Vermont Park, 14th and Vermont.

The attractive church of frame and red brick veneer was started last November and is on the northeast corner, where originally a frame church stood, which five or six years ago was replaced with a concrete building. The concrete building did not hold up.

The entrance way is on 14th of brick and wrought iron combination and to the west will be a high stone panel reaching to the top of the building on which a floodlight will be thrown on the printing.

The building and furnishings will cost approximately $45,000.

To the west of the entrance lobby is the large auditorium with beige walls and oak woodwork, and carpeted with beige and brown carpeting, so well padded that people entering the room cannot be heard. At the front, which is the north end of the auditorium, is the pulpit and behind it draw draperies of light brown shade which conceal a chalk board. On the west side of the platform is the baptistry of brick and marble and on the east side a planter of about the same size and of the same materials filled with colorful flowers. A low wall of brick also with the marble top is across the front, beneath the draperies. A spotlight in the ceiling is directed on the bapistery at the time of baptism.

There are eight speaking systems in the church, six in the auditorium, each a little louder from the front to the back of the room. There is one in the nursery, too, which is next to the auditorium, and this speaking system may be toned down or shut off if desired. A large window is in the wall between the nursery and auditorium.

The pulpit, table, stand and pews are all of matching oak like the woodwork.

Next to the nursery is the office and library with shelves, and there are six classrooms, each with permanent rows of new seats, and each with a chalk board, pin-up board and cabinet for materials. In the rooms for the primary department of children five and six years old and the pre-school age, are tables and little chairs. At the end of the long hall which leads to the car port is drinking fountain with always cold water. The walls of the entire interior of the church are of beige.

A door leads out from the auditorium at the northeast corner to a hallway off of which is the men's dressing room from the bapistery and the women's dressing room from the bapistery. In the latter is a cabinet sink to take care of communion and other needs. In this room, too, is a large water heater used to fill the bapistery.

Everything about the church has been built especially for convenience. The ten ceiling lights are very effective but give no glare.

The contractors were Patterson Brothers, who even planned the work which was to be done by the men of the church, who worked evenings.

The membership of the church is 55 with church attendance around 85.

New concrete sidewalks have been put on the south and west sides of the church and a new half block of paved street was done at the total cost to the church membership. The carport is on the east side of the church and has a light in the top. Particularly in rainy and slick or snowy weather the carport is a convenience where the driver of the car may let his family out and, as soon as the parking lot is ready, drive his car to the parking lot which will extend around the east and north of the building with a driveway between the church and the minister's house next door. The parking lot is yet to be completed.

The minister is Elmer Butler, who came to Sedalia last September to visit his son Clyde Butler, manager of B. F. Goodrich Company. It was at that time the preacher was quitting, so the congregation asked Mr. Butler, to take the charge. He was joined here by his wife in October.

There will be a series of sermons all week at 8 o'clock each evening as follows: Sunday, "The Simplicity of the Gospel" Ernest Laws, Kansas City; Monday, "Christianity in Business and Pleasure", B. M. Sunday School Lesson Notes:

By William E. Gilroy, D.D.

The threat of war in most minds today is perhaps associated chiefly with the atomic age, and with the great powers, separated by an Iron Curtain, capable of destroying humanity.

But there is another conflict, not designated as "war" but nonetheless real.

It is the conflict of ideals and ideas of political and economic organization, of the Communist and the "free" worlds. This conflict is at heart basically religious. It represents moral and spiritual beliefs and emphases as against atheistic and materialistic powers and propagandism.

In the conflict for the minds of men, for the moral and spiritual convictions of Christendom, it is my opinion that there is prevalent a strong feeling that the free world is not at all living up to its privileges, its duties, and its possibilities.

It is this that gives significance to a book by a Christian layman, who in recent years has probably visited more countries, interviewed more people, and examined social and economic conditions more closely than any other single individual.

He is Dr. Raymond W. Miller, and his book is "Can Capitalism Compete?: A Campaign for American Free Enterprise."

His appointment by the Ford Foundation "to find out how we can do a better job of describing the benefits of American capitalism in the face of the pressure of world communism" has been only a part of his wide travels and contacts.

A keen observer, he has been a successful farmer, a lawyer and publicist, a lecturer at Harvard University, and he has wide relationships in the U.S. and Canada, as well as abroad.

In Dr. Miller's book, the facts and observations are impressive as supporting his opinions, but I doubt if there is anywhere a better source of factual information.

Basically his plea is for a new and present-day sort of missionary activity, a more definite purpose of American business — everywhere he includes Canada as having the same structure and conditions—to explain itself and promote its principles in the area of the world where communism is carrying on so much effective propaganda.

In his definition of the American system as "dynamic capitalism" with a strong emphasis upon service, it is possible that Dr. Miller overidealizes American capitalism, but he cites much evidence of the transformation from the capitalism of exploitation of an earlier era to the publicly controlled, public - spirited capitalism of today.

His argument and evidence are impressive, especially as he cites on the part of many young executives the spirit and purpose of missionary - minded business activity for which he contends.

A notable factor is that at a time when Christian missions are supposed to have failed, Dr. Miller cites their strong permanent influence, and he believes that any adherence to the West in the East today is largely the result of missionary activity.

In general, Dr. Miller is constructive, rather than adversely critical, but the volume does contain some vital criticism.

Those Questionaires

The past few weeks our desk has been burdened with questionnaires. Answering them no doubt can be helpful to provide a device for measuring opinions or establishing statistical information for general or selective groups.

That is, providing the person filling out the questionnaire doesn't do it too casually in the manner reported by a western congressman who sent an extensive questionnaire to his constituents asking for their views on current and pending federal legislative matters. Among other things, for pro and con answers, he listed all manner of federal spending projects.

One of the voters returned the questionnaire with a "yes" vote in favor of each and every spending proposal. But this person added a comment: "If so much money wasn't given to federal aid, taxes could easily be lowered. Let's all urge more saving and less spending."

Here is a perfect example of a mental malady that seems to affect millions of citizens. They just don't seem to connect ever-growing government with ever-growing costs and taxes. They seem to think that government can do the impossible and give us much for nothing. So long as that blindness is prevalent, the pressures on the government to spend and spend, and tax and tax will be virtually irresistible.

This isn't just significant of a don't care attitude. Sometimes it's just plain inconsistency revealed by the lazy mental malady of filling out without thinking one of those numerous questionnaires.

Fiendish Murder of 6,000,000 Jews

By DREW PEARSON

NEW YORK—Tuvia Friedmann, who escaped from a Nazi concentration camp to spend 16 years tracking down the Nazi in charge of those camps, was not willing to disclose to me the final details of Adolf Eichmann's capture in Argentina. He explained that relations between Argentina and Israel were too delicate at the moment and the story of Eichmann's capture would have to come later.

I learned, however, that certain Argentine officials definitely cooperated in removing Eichmann from Argentina despite the Argentine government's current protests. In Latin American diplomatic circles it's strongly suspected that these protests were inspired by the present Argentine political crisis and the desire of the Frondizi government to curry favor with the military clique which has always been close to the Nazis.

For Friedmann I got one hint as to how the man who masterminded the murder of 6,000,000 Jews was finally tracked down.

"Eichmann was a fiendishly clever man about everything except one point—protection to himself. When he set up the concentration camps in Poland for the murder of the Jewish people he neglected no detail. He even had gravel sprinkled around the railroad stations after each trainload of Jews was unloaded so the next trainload would see no traces of those who had come before. Everything was arranged with the German passion for cleanliness and efficiency. Most of the Jews were told they were being brought to a place where they could get a new start in life. Even quaint Polish chalets were built near the concentration camp railroad stations to carry out the appearance of rustic rural peace.

"But," continued Friedmann, "when Eichmann fled to Argentina he neglected one thing about himself. He had four sons and he neglected to induce them to change their names. Some of them lived near him, outside Buenos Aires. It is not true, as reported by some newspapers, that they thought he was their uncle."

Worry Over USA

Continuing his recital of the facts which demanded that Eichmann be captured and face trial, Friedmann reviewed the details—which some people have forgotten—of the most gruesome mass murder in all history.

"Up until the time the United States entered the war," he explained, "Hitler's government was worried about inflaming American public opinion by too drastic treatment of the Jews thereby dragging the United States into war.

"But about the time it became evident the United States would come in, it was decided that the confinement of Jews in concentration camps was too expensive and they must be killed.

"However, this presented some problems. First, it presented engineering problems. Not enough bullets could be spared by the army to kill 6,000,000 civilians, so Eichmann was given the job of finding a solution. He came up with gas.

"Second, there was the problem of finding personnel tough enough to murder people, to withstand the screams of little children and the wailing of old people.

"So Eichmann set up a training program to make men hard-boiled enough to kill defenseless unarmed civilians. A soldier would be given a dog as a pet and after he had become fond of the dog he would be ordered to kill it. If he graduated from this without emotion he could qualify for the liquidation camps.

"In one case two officers were buddies. One of them let a prisoner escape. So his friend was required to shoot the officer who, accidentally or otherwise, had let the prisoner flee. This kind of training toughened camp personnel to a point where they were equal to any brutality.

From Haughty Officer to Worm

"Then there was another problem," continued the man who tracked down the executive in command of these camps. "It was the problem of killing quietly. The German government didn't want the world to know—not even the German people. It was afraid of public opinion.

"So all around the concentration camps were signs warning that any unauthorized person who approached would be killed without challenge.

"The first execution by gas took place in November, 1941, near Riga when 50 Jews were placed in a hermetically sealed bus and driven through the streets until they were dead. This had two disadvantages, however. First, it cost gasoline. Second, the local people found out about it.

"So in late November orders were sent that Eichmann was to visit Rudolf F. Hoess, commander of Auschwitz, and teach him how to build gas crematorium which could handle 200 Jews every 15 minutes. This stepped up the gassing rate to 15,000 Jews in Auschwitz alone. And there were six of these murder camps in Poland.

"Eichmann was the SS man who masterminded this. Is it any wonder that my government is determined to try him? He will be given a completely fair trial, but he must be tried."

"What has Eichmann been like since he left Germany?" I asked.

"He has been like a worm. When you take the fuehrer away, when you remove the uniform, the Nazis are finished. They are like oxen. When you say 'Go' they go. When you say 'Stand' they stand. They have no human dignity.

"Eichmann was a big shot. Officers quivered at the sound of his voice. He had the power of life and death over millions of people. But then he became a worm, living in a hole in the ground, knowing that this little man Tuvia Friedman was after him."

A Good Lesson In Ike's Misfortune

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Time was one of the main villains in piling up disaster for President Eisenhower.

Any future president who agrees to a summit conference or a foreign journey can learn from Eisenhower's misfortune by going as soon as possible after deciding to go.

Delay — and the unforeseen events delay made possible — spoiled what could have been a happy year for Eisenhower.

He and Premier Nikita Khrushchev, when they met here last September, cleared the way for a summit meeting. But it wasn't until December that those two men and the other Western leaders decided when to hold it.

They set the date: May 16 in Paris, five months later. At that time Khrushchev had a warm glow toward the President. He gave his own Communist world a big sales pitch on friendly relations with the West.

If the meeting had been held in January or February there wouldn't have been time for anything to spoil. But it became pretty well spoiled during the five-month lag between deciding on the meeting and holding it.

The Western foreign ministers, together and individually, did a lot of talking in statements indicating the summit wouldn't amount to much.

This angered Khrushchev. He did some talking back. The warm glow slowly evaporated. A chill began to envelop the summit before it could start.

And, of course, if it had been held months earlier there would not have been the incident of the American U2 spy plane downed over Russia May 1, just two weeks before the summit.

All these things, plus the Eisenhower administration's handling of the U2 plane explanation, put Khrushchev into a ferocious mood it, which he wrecked the summit and called off Eisenhower's trip to Russia.

Just a year ago Thursday there was an angry mood in the making in Japan against the new American-Japanese defense treaty. The Communists, naturally, were against it.

On June 16, 1959 the General Council of Trade Unions in Japan agreed to cooperate with the Japanese Communists against approval of the treaty. This formed the background for what followed.

Last Nov. 27 more than 460 people in Japan were injured in anti-treaty riots. There were more riots Jan. 16, 1960 when Premier Nobusuke Kishi left Japan for Washington to sign the treaty.

Kishi and Eisenhower signed it here Jan. 19. The next day Eisenhower accepted Kishi's invitation to visit Japan in June when the President was to be returning home from a tour of Russia.

It would seem Eisenhower and his advisers, with the memory of the anti-treaty riots in Japan still fresh in mind, might have thought it wiser for him not to risk a repetition of them by visiting Tokyo.

Instead, as it turned out his visit to Japan was arranged for June 19, the day on which the treaty was to come into force.

Perhaps the President and those close to him were beguiled by the thought that after the summit meeting the President would make a triumphal tour of Russia and, with Khrushchev beaming on him, the Japanese Communists could be expected to stay quiet.

But here again time was the element which upset all the plans and high hopes. With the summit collapse. Khrushchev and the whole Communist world turned savagely on Eisenhower.

Three Types of Muscles Rule Body's Functions

By Harold Thomas Hyman M.D.

"Tell me what makes my muscles work," writes a reader.

We have three different kinds of muscle fiber in our bodies. The muscles I'm using to type this column have cross hatchings and they're called striated. They're also referred to as voluntary since they operate under the control of my will.

The muscles that regulate the functions of our blood vessels and internal organs are called smooth since they have no cross hatchings. They're also referred to as invountary since we can't will them to contract or relax.

These involuntary or smooth muscles do respond, however, to our emotions. You can't make yourself blush or grow pale.

But if I say or do something that embarrasses you, the muscles that control the size of the small facial arteries may relax, blood will rush into the relaxed vessels and I see your cheeks redden.

If your respond with some remark that riles me, the muscles that control the size of the small arteries of my face may contract, blood is squeezed out of the constricted vessel, and you'll note that I turned "pale with anger."

Even more remarkable than striated or smooth muscles are the very special muscles of the heart.

While the nerves to the heart respond to our emotions, heart muscle is not influenced by our will or our feelings.

Regardless of circumstances, heart muscle continues to function every second of our lives.

And each time the heart beats, it beats to the very best of its ability. Unlike voluntary and involuntary muscles that may respond mildly or with intensity, cardiac muscle gives the best of which it's capable each time it contracts.

It's an all-or-none proposition with the heart.

And this talk about muscles leads me to moralize a little.

While altogether too many of us imitate the less ambitious striated and smooth muscles, and give to our tasks no more than the necessary minimum in order to "get by," some others of us function like cardiac muscle.

Responding all - or - none to whatever arises in our lives, we knock ourselves out prematurely, like the prize fighter who loses his bout in the dressing room.

To my mind, it's this all-or-none attitude that destroy's many of our most valuable men and women in the prime of their lives.

It's not their hypertension or their ulcer or their coronary thrombosis that's at the root of their premature disablement or death but the all-or-none drive that exacts the tragic penalty.

It's all very well for those of us who practice medicine to warn our patient to "Take it easy" or to prescribe sedatives, tranquilizers and hypnotics. But the main task is that of members of the family and associates.

Like the catcher who goes to the mound when his pitcher seems to be losing control, the considerate relative or friend calls time, offers words of comfort or a pat on the back, breaks the strain with a wisecrack, and reminds the tense contestant that "you can't win them all."

Twin U. S. Perils: Higher Prices, Reduced Savings

By FAYE HENLE

We are earning more and working shorter hours.

We are spending more for goods and services and saving less.

This is what the most recent figures on our behavior as consumers tell.

At first glance this might signal happy times. But let's probe deeper.

Earning more: This is fine providing it means more of us are working. During April, reports the U.S. Department of Commerce, 250,000 nonfarm workers found employment. I find little evidence, however, that very many of us are earning more because we are expending much more effort.

Working shorter hours: During April the work week in manufacturing averaged 39½ hours, one hour less than it did last December. In the professions, I've a hunch, hours worked are increasing. There is a very definite shortage of doctors and teachers and certain types of service workers.

Buying more goods and services: Every time you read of larger consumption ask yourself this: Does it mean that we are buying more units or does it mean that we are spending more dollars and perhaps buying the same number or fewer uits?

The current story: Nearly half the increase in stepped-up buying during the first quarter of this year as compared with the last quarter of 1959 was the result of higher prices. My source again U.S. Department of Commerce.

There are two very disturbing facets to this story.

First: Higher prices.

Second: Reduced savings.

The consumer price index which measures the cost of assorted goods and services consumed by city dwelling wage earners hit a peak in April.

While this peak is but four-tenths of one per cent higher than the previous all-time high and is largely due to higher food prices, I can't see that this signals any end to inflation. In fact what this means to you is simply this:

The assortment of goods and services that cost an average of $100 in 1947-49 now costs you $126.20!

You might argue that when prices are higher, it is more difficult to save. You are both right and wrong.

After we paid our taxes last year, our income totaled 335 billion dollars compared with 293 billion in 1956. This is an increase of 42 billion.

At the same time, our spending rose by 42 billion dollars. This left 23 billion for personal savings but out of much larger incomes. Actually, the amount that we saved last year fell to 6.9 per cent of our disposable income—the income we had left after we paid taxes—from 7.9 per cent in 1956.

This is disturbing to people who think about our future. In a single day's mail I've received a report from a life insurance company, from a university professor and from a ladies' investment club.

All of them say what we need is more capital—meaning more of your savings—to expand job opportunities, produce still more raw materials and finished products to produce more goods and services.

These we need to promote better health, education, old age assistance, but above all to meet the threats and challenges that face the free world today.

Two Memorials

By Cyrene Dear
Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — Two of the most interesting places to visit in the Nation's Capital are: the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception and the Franciscan Monastery, located near the Catholic University in North East Washington.

The Shrine is a huge edifice of Byzantine, Romanesque and Spanish architecture so constructed to combine the best in all forms. The huge home and the Knights tower are the second only to the Capitol building in height. Marble pillars contributed from nations all over the world are in the completed section of the lower shrine Mosaic figures in gold and brilliant hues adorn the finished walls. The Mary Immaculate statue surmounting the gilded canopy with the altar beneath is enhanced by the large mosaic mural of Christ in the arch behind.

Only the first floor of the enormous structure is completed. It was dedicated in November 1959. The walls on the upper level are brick, to be later covered with marble, while the rose and other stained glass windows will be added. It is estimated that it may take another 25 years to finish the Shrine. When it is completed it will be the largest in the world and will belong to all the world because so many nations have had a share in the building of it.

A few blocks away from The Shrine is the Franciscan Monastery with the familiar statue of St. Francis and the doves standing in the garden near the entrance. The Gardens themselves are worth a trip to sit in the shade and enjoy the tranquil beauty of the flowers and trees.

This monastery is the memorial church of the Holy Land and contains within its walls a copy of the Holy Sepulchre, the Grottos of Nazareth and Bethlehem and a model of Jerusalem during the time of Christ.

Dark narrow passage ways are modeled after the Catacombs in Rome. It was in the subterranean passages there, that divine services among the early Christians were held during the ages of persecution. There, too, like those portrayed in this monastery, can still be found the niches where the early Christians were buried. The Roman Catacombs were estimated to be about 800 miles long.

The realistic relief panel at the top of the two staircases is a striking scene of the Crucifixion. It is fitting that tourists have to climb stairs to view this scene. It reminds them of the long climb to Calvary.

No matter what one's religious beliefs may be these two memorials of the Catholic Church are structures of great beauty and holy inspiration. In both dedicated places, one is moved to kneel in gratitude and humility for the life and spirit of the founder of the Christian religion.

Reality means leaving dirty dishes in the sink and coming home to find them still there.

Think It Through

By E. F. HUTTON

PLIGHT OF THE RAILROADS—Most of our railways were laid around 100 years ago—with many stations only seven to ten miles apart. Now, however, the competition of automobiles, trucks, pipe lines, airplanes, etc., has made these little stations obsolete, and their continued operation a terrific loss.

But aside from the competition of other agencies of passenger and freight movement, the railway labor unions are pushing many railroads closer to bankruptcy.

They are able to do this, of course, only because Congress and the U.S. Supreme Court permit them to do so.

Take the case of the Chicago and North Western Railroad. It has been struggling to close its obsolete stations. The average day's work in these little one-man stations is less than one hour, and some have work for one man for only 12 minutes a day. Yet the employees get a full day's pay. In some cases, this amounts to 300 $'s an hour!

In trying to close these stations, with the approval of the State public utility commissions, the Railroad's management was confronted by the Union's demand that no job whatever be abolished without the Union's consent, or they would strike!

The Railroad offered to do everything possible to find other jobs, or grant substantial termination compensation to any employees whose jobs would be abolished.

But no dice. The U.S. Supreme Court has held, 5 to 4, that the Norris-La Guardia Act of Congress gives the Union that power.

Guest Editorial

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR: Air Safety: No Joking Matter. — When an airliner is flying at an altitude of several thousand feet it is no great help to have on board a passenger who is "higher than a kite" from the use of liquor. Multiply this to the extent of seven such "airborne drunks," or as many as there are members of the flight crew, and one can imagine the uneasiness of the other 60 or more passengers on board.

This, according to a report by the Federal Aviation Agency, was the situation on a New York-to-Montreal plane on May 20. No liquor was served on the flight, but the men are charged with violating the recent FAA rule against drinking from their own liquor supplies aboard a commercial passenger plane, and so face possible fines up to $1,000 each.

In this instance the pilot is said to have had to leave control of the plane to the co-pilot under icing conditions while he undertook to quiet a disturbance, and even then the offenders refused to take their seats during the landing at destination.

The handling of this case will be of some importance as the first under the new FAA rule. Whether that rule goes far enough in control of the serving of liquor on planes may be tested in other circumstances.

The need for severity in enforcement is akin to the seriousness with which the Federal Bureau of Investigation recently regarded a small rash of bomb hoaxes at airports in the form of anonymous phone calls or unwise jocular remarks. Where the safety of a planeload of passengers is involved, practical jokes and intoxication cease to be funny.

Congress May Act On Ore Producers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Ed Edmondson (D-Okla) said Thursday chances have brightened for congressional action before adjournment on legislation affecting small producers of lead and zinc.

The House Rules Committee, reversing an earlier action, cleared the way for floor consideration of a bill sponsored by Edmondson. A similar bill by Sens. Robert S. Kerr and A. S. Mike Monroney, Oklahoma Democrats, is pending in the Senate.

Carthage Vice Probe Nets A Conviction

CARTHAGE, Mo. (AP) — The Jasper County grand jury's long inquiry into vice into the Joplin-Carthage area bore its first conviction Thursday.

A circuit court jury convicted Sam W. McReynolds, 54-year-old Carthage cafe operator, and he was given the maximum fine of $200 for a gambling violation.

McReynolds and eight other men were indicted on gambling charges in February after a 12-week investigation.

William C. Myers, county prosecutor, announced he probably will take steps Monday to get the main case back on the legal tracks.

It involves Verne Wilder, whose restaurant in Joplin was wrecked by a dynamite explosion Sept. 3. Charles Greenwood, 41-year-old habitue of the place and a sometime employe from Paris, Tex., was killed.

The grand jury indicted Wilder and three associates on charges of operating a gambling establishment but the indictments were quashed on the ground they were improperly worded.

Prosecutor Myers said new charges, prepared by an assistant attorney general who assisted the grand jury, should be ready for filing Monday.

Accused with Wilder were Harry Hunt, Guy English and Roy Staley, all of Joplin.

The McReynolds conviction was followed by the quick arrest at the courthouse of a state witness in the case, F. C. Colman of Carthage. He was charged with gambling, pleaded guilty and was fined $100.

Coleman had testified he saw a dice game at the McReynolds cafe but did not see McReynolds throw the dice.

Circuit Judge Ray E. Watson set the next trial in the gambling cases for July 7 at Joplin. It involves a separate charge that Staley transported gambling equipment.

The bombing at Wilder's restaurant, which draws customers from all over the country, touched off the grand jury inquiry.

Investigators estimated five sticks of dynamite exploded on the roof above Wilder's office, which is on the second floor of a building adjoining the main restaurant.

Wilder was in the restaurant. Greenwood was in Wilder's office. Five others sitting there were hurt. Rubble showered onto Main Street, battering parked cars.

The chief of police called it a case of attempted murder but Wilder wouldn't talk about it and investigators indicated they were unable to determine the motive for the bombing.

Bear Is DOA at Zoo; He's Overtranquilized

SALINAS, Calif. (AP) — The bear came over the mountain, landed in jail, and today is dead of tranquilizers.

That was the brief, sad story of Salinas Sam, a 250-pound black bear, apparently driven from the Gabilan Mountains by drought. He was caught loitering in an airplane hanger Tuesday.

Salinas police put him in jail, but first they shot him with a tranquilizer.

Thursday, he was tranquilized again and put into a small truck and started toward Fleishhacker Zoo in San Francisco.

On the way the tranquilizer wore off and Sam's police escorts stopped at Morgan Hill where a veterinarian gave him another shot.

GOP Women Elect Officers Thursday

Republican Women of Pettis County met Thursday morning at the First State Savings and Loan Company club room and held an election of officers. Mrs. Fred G. Rose was elected president of the club; Mrs. Jack Kellerman, of Smithton, vice - president; Mrs. Evelyn Cox, secretary; and Mrs. Willeta Dempsey, treasurer.

Plans were made for the annual picnic to be held July 18 at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. John Ryan, State district and local candidates will be invited to present their candidacy in Pettis County at this time.

The state meeting of the Missouri Federation of Republican Women to be held at Columbia June 17 and 18 was announced.

Mrs. Paul Ryan, Warsaw, 11th District president, was a guest and talked with the women about the need for active work.

Mrs. Ryan urged "that we all share our time and talents along with many other women in the responsibility and work every citizen has in maintaining our way of life."

She cited "the trouble we are facing on the international front and especially the question of how President Eisenhower will be received in Japan by the youth group demonstrating against the treaty permitting us to have other military bases in Japan."

Mrs. Ryan continued by saying, "we are told Communism is making great inroads among unsuspecting people, people who want national independence, hungry people, people who want to live like those on the other side of the track and illiterate people. We must not brush this matter off lightly. In our own nation the largest group, at least the most dangerous to our way of life are probably the unsuspecting and apathetic citizen who thinks 'it won't happen here.' Let us share generously our time and talents in behalf of the stable Republican form of government our forefathers established, which in turn secures for us our way of life. Let us be sure we do not have to take our churches and civic clubs underground."

Mrs. Ryan closed by saying, "I do not want to be an alarmist, but this pattern of student rioting throughout the world, even a few instances in our own nation are in my opinion planned and inspired occurrences that seem to be growing in strength."

KC Policeman Slain in Cabin; Woman Is Held

MOUNTAIN HOME, Ark. (AP) — A Kansas City policeman was shot to death in a fishing resort cabin on Bull Shoals Lake near here yesterday.

Police picked up a Kansas City woman at Harrison, 50 miles southwest of here, a short time after the shooting. Officers said the woman, who gave her name as Mrs. Naomia Sheen, admitted the shooting. She was held here for investigation but no charges have been filed against her.

Slain was Frank Holtman, 47, a patrolman assigned to duty in the Kansas City jail. He was shot four times with a .22 caliber weapon. The gun is missing.

An employe of the resort, John Earl, said Holtman and Mrs. Sheen arrived at the lake Wednesday. He said Holtman was a frequent visitor here.

Holtman was found dying on the floor of his cabin by 13-year-old Bobbie Ellis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Ellis, owners of the Lakewood Court. Young Ellis said he heard the shots and investigated when he saw a woman leave the cabin and drive away.

"Do you need help?" he asked. "Can I call a doctor?"

"No," Holtman replied to both questions.

Pleads Guilty To Manslaughter Of Boy Friend

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Miss Evelyn McCorkley, 38, of Chesterfield, Mo., pleaded guilty in Circuit Court in St. Louis County to manslaughter in the knife slaying of her boy friend and was given a one-year sentence Thursday.

Miss McCorkley was first charged with first degree murder after fatally stabbing Robert Newman, 34, in front of a Chesterfield tavern last May 8 during an argument.

After an investigation, the County Grand Jury indicted her for manslaughter.

County Prosecutor Norman Anderson said the investigation revealed that Newman, who lived with Miss McCorkley, had beaten her numerous times, slashed her with a knife once and was threatening her with violence again at the time of his fatal stabbing.

Circuit Judge Robert G. J. Hoester decreed that she would serve the sentence in the county jail.

Both she and Newman were field workers on a farm near Chesterfield.

Police Keep Breaking Up Bunny's Dance Act

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Blonde exotic dancer Joan (Bunny) Ware lost two more battles to the St. Louis Police Department Thursday night but she hopes to win the war — in court.

Police, at the command of Capt. John Doherty, arrested Bunny for the seventh and eighth times, booking her on suspicion of performing a lewd and indecent act.

Bunny went into Circuit Court Thursday and Judge William J. Killoren ordered police to show cause in a hearing next Thursday why they should not be enjoined from arresting her.

Charles (Bud) Elliott, owner-manager of the club in which Bunny dances, complains that not even he has seen her entire act. Police always break it up before she's finished.

Almost Blow Six Run Lead

Cardinals Knock Over Reds, Sweep Three-Game Series

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The St. Louis Cardinals completed a three game sweep against Cincinnati Thursday night as they defeated the Reds 6-5.

Kansas City stopped the New York Yankees for the first time since Aug. 22, 1959, converting 8 hits into a 9-1 victory behind the four-hit pitching of lefthander Bud Daley.

It was the 9th victory and the 8th straight for Daley against only two setbacks this season. Daley is the top winner in the American League and is tied with Larry Jackson of the Cards and Vern Law of Pittsburgh in the National League as the leading hurlers in the majors.

The Cards almost blew a 6 run lead before Lindy McDaniel put down a Cincinnati rally in the 7th inning.

Cincinnati scored four in the 7th including two on Frank Robinson's homer.

Ken Boyer, Bill White and starting and winning pitcher Ernie Broglio each had two hits to lead the Cardinal offensive.

Broglio now has won four while losing two.

Bob Purkey was the loser.

The Cards have won 6 of their last 7 games to move into fourth place, 7 games behind league leading Pittsburgh.

New York scored its only run when Daley walked losing pitcher Whitey Ford with the bases loaded in the second inning.

The A's scored twice in the first inning on a double by Bob Johnson and singles by Hank Bauer, Dick Williams and Norm Siebern.

They added 5 in the 7th as Johnson singled to drive in two and Williams homered to send three more across.

Whitey Herzog ended the A's scoring in the 8th on a two-run homer.

Ford's loss was his first to Kansas City in 14 games.

Pigou Meets Lausse

NEW YORK (AP) — France's Marcel Pigou, making his American debut, attempts to snap Eduardo Lausse's 15-fight winning streak in a 10-round middleweight scrap in St. Nicholas Arena tonight. The bout will be televised at 9 p.m. EST on NBC.

Floyd Will Be Heavier In Title Bout

NEWTOWN, Conn. (AP)—Will six or seven more pounds help or hurt Floyd Patterson in his return bout Monday with heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson?

"It's going to help," said Patterson today. "I'm hitting harder and I think I'm just as fast at 183 or 189 pounds as at 182."

The 25-year-old ex-champion scaled 182 pounds a year ago when he was dethroned by the 196-pound Johansson on a seven-knockdown third-round technical knockout. This time Floyd said he will hit 188 or 189.

Johanson said he will weigh the same 196.

Johansson doesn't think the addede weight will be of benefit to the challenger. The Swede classifies Floyd as a sort of ugly duckling—neither a light heavy nor a full-fledged heavy. Ingo is supremely confident that his thunderbolt right will take care of a heavier — and in his opinion, a slower— opponent with just a much ease.

There's no doubt that Patterson is aiming to pack more power into his wallops. He didn't get a chance to umlimber any big guns in the 1959 massacre. If he does this time, he is counting on the extra meat and muscle to beat down the champ.

"The weight has come on naturally," said Floyd, "I feel fine and it hasn't slowed me up a bit. I feel stronger."

Floyd weighed around 190 Thursday and appeared very impressive in a next-to-last, three round boxing drill against Bjarne Lingaas, a 6-3, 191-pound Norwegian, and Julio Mederos, stocky, Cuban 210-pounder.

The solemn faced ex-champ planned to wind up his boxing preparations with a two-round session late this afternoon although he said "I'm definitely ready now. I just want to maintain my condition."

Johansson finished his boxing Wednesday. He says he likes to rest five days before a fight "so the strength and power can flow into my body."

Patterson's brilliant effort impressed a group of four former champions, especially Gus Lesnevitch, ex-light heavyweight ruler The other ring bluebloods were Joe Louis, Jimmy Braddock and Rocky Marciano.

"If Floyd fights Johansson the way he tore into his sparring partners, he has to win," said Lesnevitch.

Haven't Beat Ford Since 1953

A's Beat Yankees 9-1 For First Time

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

When the Kansas City A's finally decided to stop the nonsense, they really did a job. They belted the Yankees 9-1 Thursday night, blocking their shot at the American League lead.

It was the A's first victory over the Yanks in nine tries—and their first over southpaw Whitey Ford in seven years.

With the Yankee defeat, Baltimore bounced back into first place by 1½ games over New York and Cleveland, tied for second. The Orioles had beaten the Indians 3-2 in 11 innings on Ron Hansen's home run in an afternoon game.

The Chicago White Sox clung to fourth place, 2½ games behind, by whipping Washington 10-4. Fifth-place Detroit defeated Boston 6-5 in 10 innings after Ted Williams' 499th home run gave the Red Sox a tie in the ninth.

In the National League, Pittsburgh built a four-game lead by beating second-place San Francisco 10-7 for a sweep of the three-game series. Third-place Milwaukee defeated Chicago's Cubs 10-7. St. Louis made it four straight with a 6-5 win at Cincinnati. Los Angeles beat Philadelphia 10-6.

Left-hander Bud Daley's four-hit pitching made it a breeze for the A's who had lost 14 in a row to Ford since August 22, 1953. Daley, top winner in the AL and tied with Pittsburgh's Vern Law and St. Louis' Larry Jackson as the winningest in the majors, struck out four and walked four while squaring his lifetime mark against New York at 4-4. The Yanks' run came in the second inning, when a walk to Ford forced it home.

Ford (2-5), losing three in a row for only the second time in a nine-year career, was beaten in a two-run first. Bob Johnson's double, infield hits by Hank Bauer and Dick Williams and a single by Norm Siebern, did it. The A's, who were 0-13 against Ford since their shift to Kansas City, then chased the little lefty on Johnson's two-run single as they scored five in the seventh.

Baltimore won the series at Cleveland three games to one after blowing a 2-0 lead in the ninth. Jack Fisher (5-4) gave up seven hits, losing the shutout and the lead in the ninth on Johnny Romano's home run, Tito Francona's double and a two-out pinch single by Chuck Taner. Barry Latman (1-1) was the loser in relief.

The White Sox picked up four unearned runs in the third, blew a 4-2 lead and then beat ex-mate Ray Moore (1-2) with a sixth-inning run. Earl Battey and Bob Allison each hit two-run homers for the Senators. Gerry Staley (8-2), who pitched three hitless innings of mop-up relief, was given the victory although Dick Donovan was the pitcher of record when the White Sox cracked a 4-4 tie in the sixth.

Consecutive one-out singles by pinch-hitter Sandy Amoros, Eddie Yost and Frank Bolling beat Boston for Tiger reliever Dave Sisler (4-2). Williams' home run, seventh of the season, came off lefty reliever Hank Aguirre.

Country Club Record Is Tied By Vic Van Dyne

Vic VanDyne Route 4 tied the Sedalia Country Club amateur record for 18 holes, June 11, with a five-under-par 67. John Martin and Harry Meyers both fired 67's some ten years earlier. In a foursome with Van Van Dyne, Les Griffin and Earl Hall, VanDyne went around the first nine holes in 31 strokes. Playing a free ditch on No. 2, a par five, 505 yard hole, he shot an eagle 3. He birdied No's 5, 7 and 9, and parred the remaining holes. He needed only 12 putts to clear the nine holes. On the back nine he scored a regulation par 36.

VanDyne, a 20-year-old linksman, was tenth of 140 golfers in a pro-amateur tourney at Lake Quivira, Kan., held early in May. He was the fourth lowest amateur in the contest.

On May 29 he won the championship flight in the Lebanon Tournament. Among the 93 contestants entered was the medalist in the Missouri State Amateur Tournament of 1958.

He was runnerup in the Sedalia Country Club Medal Play Championship Memorial Day.

VanDyne has taken lessons under Duke Gibson, professional at the Blue Hills Country Club, Kansas City, for the past three years. Gibson is one of the country's finest teachers.

Vic plans a professional golf career after finishing college.

Throws 166 Pitches, Says He Wasn't Tired

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "Shucks, no. I wasn't tired," drawled Vinegar Bend Mizell.

But the Pirates' tall, gangling southpaw had his tongue in his cheek as he said it.

Now 2-1 with the Pirates since he was traded by the St. Louis Cardinals, Mizell threw 166 pitches Thursday before he was taken out in the ninth as his teammates beat San Francisco 10-7.

It was a big victory, giving a four-game lead over the second-place Giants.

Hobo Car Racing Saturday

Thunderbowl Adds New Feature to Card

"Hobo car" racing is an entirely new feature which will be added to the Thunderbowl Speedway program for this Saturday night's race. Anybody with an old model stock car — valued at no more than $100 — can have his try on the track.

CMRA official,s in introducing this novel race to Sedalia, have made several rules which must be followed before a car is allowed to run.

First of all, the car must be strictly stock — no soup-up jobs allowed. Secondly, every bit of glass on the car has to be taken off, and finally, it must have a roll-bar and safety belt.

The cars will run under new CMRA "Texas rules", which means that about anything goes. The driver best able to beat his way through a whole field of cars will be winner — to circle the track with the checkered flag.

All races will run from a standing start and will not be stopped unless a driver is in danger. The hobo race will, Thunderbowl officials hope, continue to be an added attraction at the track this season.

Race-time Saturday is 8 p.m. Last reports indicated two local cars will be ready for the event, sponsored by Bacon's Service Station and the W. A. Smith Motor Co. There will be a $100 claim on all cars and anyone attending may claim a car after the race for that amount.

Chiefs Down Sweet Springs In 7 Innings

The Sedalia Chiefs trounced Sweet Springs, 9-0, Thursday night in seven innings. Both teams agreed to stop the game at the end of seven innings if Sweet Springs could not threaten the Sedalia score. The game had also continued to a late hour.

Sweet Springs tallied only two hits off starter Bob Howard, who went five innings before giving way to Roger Gates. Howard showed good control and a sharp curve for his debut with the Chiefs. Gates came on in the top of the sixth to put down the Sweet Springs hitters with a blazing fast ball.

Sedalia started the first inning with two straight hits by Droege and Nichols. Morgan then walked and Droege scored on a passed ball. Newman hit a long fly to center field which was misjudged and fell in for a home run. The Chiefs accounted for 11 hits and six stolen bases last night.

Bob Howard took his first win of the year against no losses. Bob Keeney was credited with the loss for Sweet Springs.

The Chiefs will play two games Sunday at Liberty Park. The first one will start at 2:30 p.m. against Marshall. This is to be a makeup game which was rained out a week ago. Sunday night at 8 o'clock the boys play Lexington.

Emmy Show Highlights Week's TV

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Television honors its own this week. The No. 1 TV event will be Monday night's "Emmy" show (NBC, 10-11:30) when winners of Academy of Television Arts and Sciences awards will be announced.

Finals of the National Open golf championship pre-empts NBC's public affairs show Saturday (9-9:30 p.m.), with the cameras focused on the last three holes at Cherry Hills Country Club near Denver.

Benny Goodman, singers Jane Morgan and Della Reese and dancers Ann Miller and Halelike, late of the Arthur Godfrey family, appear on the Ed Sullivan Show (CBS, 8-9) Sunday. NBC's weekly hour-long mystery (9-10 Sun.) is a new production of Gore Vidal's "Dark Possession," with Diana Lynn and Anne Seymour — a drama which has been done five or six times but is, apparently, still TV-worthy.

Monday night's Emmy awards now will be live from New York ond Hollywood. Awards are based on balloting by members of the organization.

ABC's "Music for a Summer Night" on Wednesday (7:30-8:30) will be a tribute to the female of the species — with such performers as Signe Hasso, Geraldine Fitzgerald and Brenda Lewis.

"The Secret World of Eddie Hodges," a musical fantasy, will headline Thursday evening's entertainment (CBS, 10-11). Co-starring with young Eddie will be Jackie Gleason, Janis Paige, Hugh O'Brian and Bert Larh.

Cat, Dog on Return

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — A decorated veteran who said he was going to list his cat and dog as dependents on his income tax has been charged with filing a false return.

James F. Bertie, 40, Brooklyn, N.Y., was charged Thursday with failure to file a 1957 tax return.

Bertie said he objected to paying income taxes because "I just don't think we're getting our money's worth from the taxes we pay."

The government charged Bertie with conspiring to defraud by listing his cat and dog as dependents on a withholding statement.

NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.

Arsenic In Syrup Puzzles the Police

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — The Butler County Health Department says it will investigate how arsenic got into a soft drink syrup at a drive-in theater here.

A score of persons became ill early Saturday after consuming the soft drink.

Health Commissioner Alexander Witkow reported tests had shown arsenic in the syrup but authorities have been unable to learn how it got there.

Dr. Witkow said the fact the concentration of arsenic was so great probably saved some lives. He said they became so violently ill they vomited and expelled the poison.

State 4-H Club Week On University Campus

The following Moniteau County 4-H Club members joined some 1,000 others at State Club Week on the University of Missouri campus; Carol Calhoun, Red Brush; Carolyn Alee, Show-Me; Robert Bowles, Tipton; Ruth Sue Soechner, Flying Eagles; Ruth Elmlinger, Tipton; Carol Basinger, Clover; and Donald Yoest, Flying Eagles 4-H Club.

Club Week delegates spent busy days following a schedule built around the theme, "Live, Learn, and Serve." They heard Evelyn Millis Duvall, family relations consultant, Chicago, talk on the live theme. The 4-H'ers attended workshop sessions on wildlife and music and song leading. Ideas presented in these sessions can be used in local club and county programs. Members also joined in variety of recreational parties, mixers and picnics. Club Week inspires club members to greater service to their clubs and communities and to acquaint them with the University of Missouri.

Donald Yoest and Ruth Sue Koechner of Moniteau County were retiring district representatives on the State 4-H Council and were honored in the Candlelighting Ceremony. Robert Rowles of Tipton and Carol Calhoun of the Red Brush 4-H Club were elected to serve as south central district representatives on the State 4-H Council for 1961.

This 15th Annual 4-H event was sponsored by the University of Missouri Agricultural Extension Service. Funds were contributed by the Folger Coffee Company and Missouri State Rural Electrification Association of which Co-Mo Electric Cooperative of Tipton is a member. The Moniteau County 4-H Council paid registration and housing for the delegates.

TWO CARS ONE PRICE!

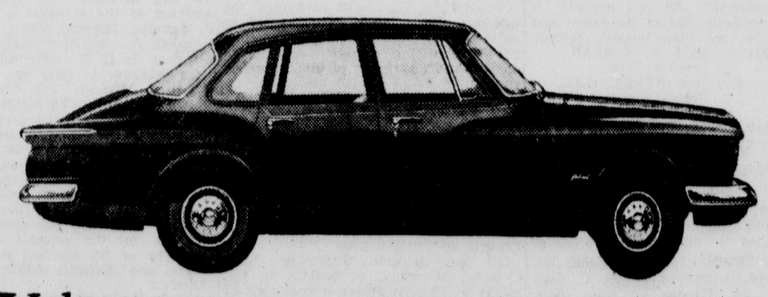

$94.26 PER MONTH TOTAL

Based on a combined suggested retail price of a Plymouth Savoy 2-door, 6-cylinder sedan and a Valiant V-100, 4-door sedan with one-third down on the total and 36 monthly payments at 6% interest. Payments include everything except optional equipment, destination charge, insurance, licensing, state and local taxes. Price does include Federal Taxes.

You read it right, Mister. An irresistible combination, Plymouth and Valiant, a pair of bona fide Kings, and you can get 'em both for $94.26 a month. ONLY WANT ONE? All right, then, get out the slide rule. If you can get two new cars for $94.26 a month think of the money you can save by buying just one of them. Savings???? You'll never get 'em better or bigger.

Plymouth—KING OF THE ROAD—This king won its class four years straight in the Mobilgas Economy Run. And Plymouth's got a lot more going for it than just economy. It's one tough car in one tough piece. "Solid for '60". You're in for the quietest, most solid ride you'll ever take. Take it today.

Valiant—KING OF THE COMPACTS—Twice Valiant tangled with Falcon and Corvair. Twice Valiant left 'em in the dust. Once in a Florida road test. Again in the Mobilgas Economy Run. Valiant beat the carburetors off them both. You get it all . . . looks, room, economy. Get the king. Get Valiant.

Mason's DA Morals Trial Is Halted

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) —A legal point has temporarily halted the morals trial of actor William Talman, 45, erstwhile district attorney of the Perry Mason television series.

Municipal Judge Adolph Alexander recessed the trial of Talman and six other men and women Thursday to weigh a question raised by Talman's attorney: was the arrest legal?

Sheriff's deputy Harry Stameisen testified he arrested Talman and the others March 18 at Hollywood party where he said all were cavorting in the nude.

Stameisen said he gained admittance after posing in a telephone call as a prospective guest. Talman's attorney claims this was illegal entry.

Richard Reibold, 31, the apartment's tenant, was charged with marijuana possession, a felony. The others were charged with lewd vagrancy.

Senate Passes $40.5 Billion Defense Bill

$1.25 Billion More Than Ike Sought

More Strength Seen In Dealing With Reds in Future

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Thursday night passed a $40,514,897,000 defense money bill which its Democratic leader said will enable the next president to act from strength in dealing with the Russians.

The roll-call vote was 85-0.

The measure topped President Eisenhower's recommendations by about 1¼ billion dollars and the House's total by more than one billion dollars.

Before shipping the bill back to the House, the Senate adopted a compromise amendment tacking on 90 million dollars to speed modernization of the Army's fighting gear.

It also put in another 40 million dollars to increase the Marine Corps by 25,000 men to a strength of 200,000.

The Senate measure incorporates hundreds of millions of dollars the House added to administration requests to build a missile-firing submarine fleet faster, to provide more planes for airlifting troops and weapons to trouble spots, and to keep the Army National Guard and reserve up to strength.

It also includes hundreds of millions of dollars the House refused for a new supercarrier, for developing a 2,000-mile-an-hour B70 bomber and for buying the controversial Bomarc antiaircraft missile.

And with U2 spy plane operations halted, the Senate voted 84 million dollars more to rush the spy-in-the-sky Samos satellite toward operational use. Sen. John Stennis (D-Miss) said the extra money will speed the reconnaissance satellite's development by a year.

Urging approval of the bill, Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas told his colleagues "our next president will be in a position to act from strength if we provide him with the additional resources" called for in the measure.

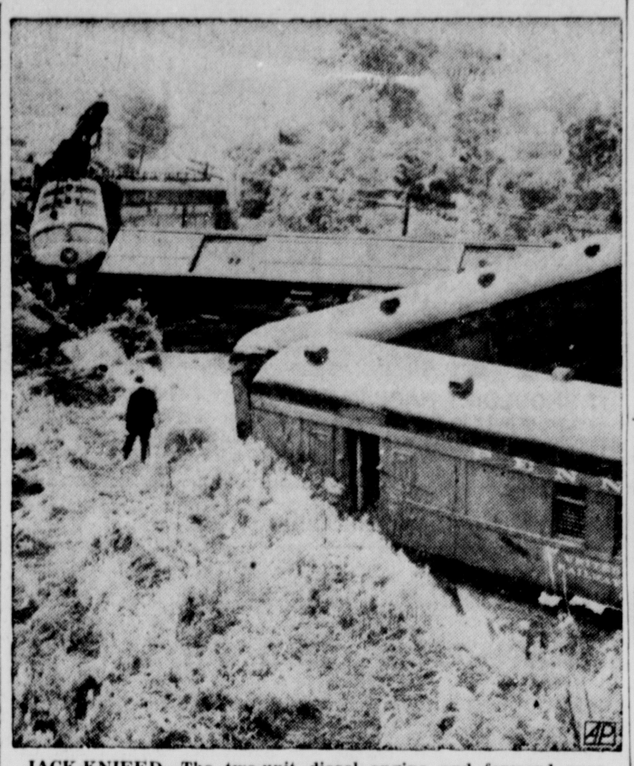

Johnson—a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination—said Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev "would not have felt so free to abuse our President if he had had more respect for our future military strength."

Sen. Dennis Chavez (D-NM), chairman of an appropriation subcommittee which drafted the defense measure, called it "a strong peace bill."

As it left the Senate, the bill provided about 9½ billion for the Army, some $12,200,000,000 for the Navy, $17,400,000,000 for the Air Force and $1,200,000,000 for the Office of the Secretary of Defense.

The House made major changes in the administration's program without adding much to the total.

Differences between Senate and House versions will have to be compromised before Congress sends Eisenhower the measure to pay for military preparedness in the fiscal year starting July 1.

An Increase Over Last Year

School Count Shows 173 More Students

The Sedalia public school enumeration for May, 1960, was submitted at the regular meeting of Sedalia Board of Education Tuesday night, and it was noted that there has been an increase of 173 students since last year.

The enumeration indicated a population shift to the fourth ward, which shows a 215 student increase over last year. The enumeration for 1960 is as follows: First Ward, 1,209; Second Ward, 1,284; Third Ward, 1,420; Fourth Ward, 1,444. The figures for 1959 are: First Ward, 1,205; Second Ward, 1,243; Third Ward, 1,437; Fourth Ward 1,299.

Bids on the purchase of various materials and equipment were opened and decided upon. Two bids were received on the installation of separate fire alarms for each school, but there was such a wide range in the bids that the board decided to turn the bids over to the building committee for further study. The Hurlbut Printing Co. was the low bidder on a printing job, and the Wise Typewriter Co. was low bidder on the replacement and repair of typewriters.

Art supplies, instructional supplies, janitorial supplies, science supplies, industrial arts supplies, physical education supplies, furniture, textbooks and other items are to be purchased according to

Man Admits Enticing Boy From Park

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A 30-year-old man, arrested Thursday at Neosho, Mo., has confessed he enticed 5-year-old Garry Carpenter away from an amusement park in Kansas City, police reported.

Police said William Neil Butler made a written confession after the boy picked him out of a police lineup as the man who accosted him at Fairyland Park June 4.

Garry was at the park with his mother, Mrs. Heana Carpenter; a brother and two sisters. The mother missed him when she turned to give him some cotton candy.

Garry was found 22 hours later, crying on a street corner in Joplin, 160 miles away.

Garry told officers a man took him to a white car and drove a long way, stopping overnight at a pink house. He said the man did not hurt him and gave him money.

Garry accompanied Detective John J. Riordan of Kansas City on a trip retracing the route to Joplin.

Butler was taken into custody at Neosho Thursday morning by Riordan and Police Chief Floyd White of Neosho after the officers obtained a warrant charging him with enticing away a child.

Lt. Sterling Ford, head of the homicide unit of the Kansas City police department, said the man's appearance and habits and his car corresponded to those described by Garry.

Requests Refund On Weather Warning System

Pettis County Civil Defense Director Fred Bennett Thursday sent in a request to Colorado Springs, Colo., for a refund of $3,737.23 for Sedalia's portion in the installation and purchase of the weather warning system. The federal government paid the rest of the total cost of $7,474.45.

The actual cost to the city of Sedalia amounted to $1,437.23 for the $10,000 warning system. The city will receive the refund for $2,300 in public contributions and the $1,437.23 from the contingent fund.

Installation of the system, regarded by the federal government as part of the national air warning and attack system, began on Sept. 30, 1959, after Bennett and William E. Miller, then co-chairman of the committee to secure funds, cut most of the red tape to get the operation underway.

The first siren was put up on the Sedalia armory in April, and since then the remaining four sirens have been insalled and hooked up to the main control panel at the police station.

Mrs. Mary F. Jones' Hearing Continued

The preliminary hearing in Magistrate Court for the Rev. Mary Frances Jones, 77, accused of second degree murder, was continued Thursday by Judge Stuart E. Blackburn until 1:30 p. m. Tuesday, June 21.

Mrs. Jones is charged in the death of Mrs. Odie O'Day, 80, in Kansas City, last April 14. Mrs. O'Day allegedly died of a heart attack after she was shaken by Mrs. Jones.

She is being held in the Jackson County jail in default of a $2,000 bond pending the hearing.

Time of Arrival in Hawaii Is Indefinite

HONOLULU (AP)—The governor's office announced Thursday that President Eisenhower would arrive Sunday in Hawaii but an hour later a spokesman said, "The message may have been in error."

"The President's arrival is indefinite at this point," the spokesman added.

To that Hugh Lytle, press secretary to Gov. William F. Quinn, added: "We don't know whether the President is coming in Sunday or not. We don't know where the messaeg came from."

Earlier, in announcing that Eisenhower would arrive Sunday, instead of next Wednesday as previously scheduled, Lytle had said the word came in a radio message from the presidential party.

28 Million Rise in Population

Census Bureau Says It Has Reached 179½ Million

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Census Bureau said Thursday the population of the United States has reached 179½ million, having increased by more than 28 million in the past 10 years.

It came up with this rough total, still subject to revision, on the basis of actual counts of 177,733,190 persons and on estimates of those still to be tabulated.

The vast increase of 28 million since 1950, a record for any decade, was attributed to a soaring birth rate and a continued low death rate, rather than to such factors as immigration.

In the 10 years between 1940 and 1950 the increase was 19 million. And in the 1930-1940 depression decade, the increase was only 8,800,000.

The nation's 10 largest states in 1960, on the basis of the preliminary tabulation, in order:

New York, California, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Ohio, Texas, Michigan, New Jersey, Massachusetts and Florida.

This is the same listing as in 1950, except that fast-growing Florida jumped from 18th place to 10th, displacing North Carolina, which fell to 12th. Floridians, many of them "immigrants" from other states, now number 4,893,098.

Florida recorded a 76.6 per cent population gain in the past 10 years, to lead all the states in this category. Nevada was the No. 2 with a climb of 75.8 per cent to 281,348.

Alaska gained 74.4 per cent to 224,383 and Arizona climbed 71.1 per cent to 1,282,405.

California figures—out Thursday—showed a 46.8 per cent increase in 10 years to 15,537,413.

New figures were also announced for Tennessee: a 1960 population of 3,531,773, a gain of 7.- per cent in 10 years.

Population losses were reported for West Virginia, Arkansas, Mississippi and the District of Columbia.

West Virginia dropped 7.8 per cent to 1,847,082, Arkansas by 7.2 per cent to 1,772,428, Mississippi by 0.8 per cent to 2,162,422 and the District of Columbia by 6.9 per cent to 746,958.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Thursday night passed a $1,247,500,000 omnibus housing bill after chopping out 134 million in an effort to make it more acceptable to President Eisenhower.

The bill, which now goes to the House, carries funds for college dormitory loans, slum clearance, and a variety of programs designed to provide homes for veterans and other citizens.

The Senate pushed through the bill after less than three hours of debate, quickly disposing of one of the major bills to be acted on before final adjournment.

The Senate was in session more than 14 hours Thursday. Earlier, it passed a $40,514,897,000 defense money bill and cleared a constitutional amendment permitting District of Columbia citizens to vote for president and vice president.

Some See Loss in Prestige, But Happy Ike's Trip Is Off

Ike Unhappy About Fate Of His Trip

Leaves Friendly Philippines for Visit to Formosa

EN ROUTE WITH EISENHOWER (AP)—Under a near-wartime alert, President Eisenhower sailed toward Formosa Friday after an affectionate farewell from the Philippines.

In a light tropical rain, he said goodby Thursday night to "a friendly government and a friendly people."

He said nothing of the decision to cancel his trip to Japan, but he was clearly unhappy about it.

Wearied by the wild and happy Manila reception, he boarded a Navy launch just before midnight and rode out to the cruiser St. Paul, anchored in Manila Bay. The vessel, flagship of the 7th Fleet, is due at the Nationalist Chinese bastion of Formosa Saturday.

The voyage brings Eisenhower within about 100 miles of the Red China mainland.

The fighter planes from the aircraft carrier Ticonderoga are flying constanly air cover. The entire 7th Fleet is on alert against any moves by Communist China, which has made several military threats against Nationalist outposts near the mainland and poured out constant abuse of Eisenhower's Far Eastern visit.

Although Eisenhower was personally silent on the riots in Tokyo that forced cancellation of his trp to Japan, presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower blamed the violence on "a small, organized minority led by professional Communist agitators."

Even before the President left Washintgon, some advisers had counseled him to avoid Japan, but the President insisted on going. He hoped the trip would prove that democratic leaders—whether Japanese or American—would not bow to mob pressure.

U. S. Ambassador Douglas MacArthur II reported from Tokyo that Japanese leftists would not dare to attempt violence against Eisenhower, especially if he was accompanied by Emperor Hiro-

BATTLE AT DIET GATE—Through a side gate to the Diet (Parliament) in Tokyo, helmeted police battle with students trying to enter the grounds. Against Kishi's Government

New Demonstrations And Strikes Ordered

TOKYO (AP)—Japan's Communist-led left wing, unsatisfied with forcing cancellation of President Eisenhower's visit, Friday ordered fresh demonstrations and strikes against Premier Nobuske Kishi's embattled government and the U. S.-Japanese security treaty.

Although acknowledging Japan's inability to guarantee the President's safety, Nishi served notice he will not yield to the campaign of worldwide communism and of Japan's left-wing clamor to scrap the military alliance with America.

The embattled 64-year-old Kishi told newsmen he will not even consider opposition demands that he dissolve the Diet or resign until the final exchange of ratifications on the new U. S.-Japan security treaty, providing for American bases in Japan for at least another decade.

He said he will keep the Diet in session so that Japanese ratification automatically becomes final Sunday, with or without upper House action. The lower house ratified the treaty at a stormy May 20 session.

Japan's noisy left-wing minority immediately announced an all-out campaign to block the treaty and topple Kishi in the next three days.

The Red-tinged 3,500,000-member labor federation, Sosyo, announced it would muster up to 300,000 demonstrators at the Diet Saturday to step up pressure. Sohyo, whose membership includes 70 per cent of the country's government workers, also ordered more strikes and work stoppages June 22.

The opposition Socialists issued a statement declaring cancellation of the Eisenhower visit is "the will of the people" and "an expression of opposition to Kishi that makes his resignation the only course left to him."

Zengakuren, the fanatical Marxist student group which launched the most violent of Tokyo's left-wing demonstrations, threatened "unlimited strikes and daily demonstrations until Kishi and the U. S. security treaty are thrown out."

Kishi pledged measures to smash the leftist turmoil and bring order to Tokyo.

"I swear to the people that there will come a time when we

Two Attaches Are Ordered Out of Cuba

HAVANA (AP)—Cuba Thursday ordered two U.S. Embassy attaches to leave the country within 24 hours for "gravely affecting the national sovereignty of Cuba by interfering in its internal affairs." U. S. Ambassador Philip Bonsal protested the order, the first against a U.S. Embassy official here since Prime Minister Fidel Castro took over Cuba Jan. 1, 1959.

Named were Edwin L. Sweet of Abilene, Tex., and William G. Friedemann of Stillwater, Okla., both assistant legal attaches at the embassy. They were held 2½ hours Wednesday night on charges of "conspiring with counterrevolutionists."

They were freed after a severe tongue-lashing by Armed Forces Minister Raul Castro, it was reported. There also were reports Cuban agents seized and searched Friedemann by force after he refused to permit a search. Sweet, the 6-foot-2 Texan, also refused to permit his captors to search him and it was understood they did not. It was presumed the U.S. Embassy would immediately transfer Sweet and Friedemann out of Cuba.

Both Friedemann and Sweet are former FBI agents.

Cuban officials said both Americans were seized by agents of Raul Castro's military intelligence while they met with a group of Cubans.

Without awaiting formal notifications from the Cuban government, Bonsal fired off a protest to the Foreign Ministry against "the unwarranted action" of Cuban officials in detaining the two in view of their diplomatic status.

The first announcement of the arrests was made by the semi-official newspaper Revolution which said the two Americans had "flagrantly violated the sovereignty and laws of Cuba" by meeting clandestinely with counterrevolutionists.

Embassy officials said Sweet and Friedemann were visiting some Cubans when they were seized.

Demos Stress Diplomatic Setback Angle

GOPs Seek Solace In Fact That Ike Won't Face Threat

WASHINGTON (AP)—Relief that President Eisenhower will be spared the threat of physical danger was tempered Thursday by what some political leaders viewed as a loss of U. S. prestige in the cancellation of his trip to Japan.

Democrats stressed the diplomatic setback angle, while Republicans sought solace in the fact that Eisenhower will not have to run a possible gantlet of angry mobs in Tokyo.

No one, Republican or Democrat, questioned the wisdom of the decision.

"This is a melancholy moment in the history of the world," summed up Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel of California, the assistant Republican floor leader.

Both the Republican and Democratic leaders in the Senate accused the Communists of fomenting hostile demonstrations in Japan.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic leader, called the Tokyo rioting "pure blackmail in its most outrageous sense." GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois denounced it as "a flaming example of what Communist ruthlessness and brutality can really do to subvert a people."

"Their next step," Dirksen predicted in a Senate speech, "will be aimed to compel the expulsion of American troops from Japan."

Johnson told the Senate that while the decision to call off the trip was wise in the circumstances he felt the necessity for doing so was "a matter of great embarrassment." He said there had been "substantial reservations about the wisdom of this trip from the beginning."

"It is evident that this is a time to re-examine our policies and to determine whether they are effective in penetrating the walls which the Communists seek to build between men," he added.

Communists will consider it a victory, Johnson said, "that the Japanese government was unwilling to risk the security of the President."

Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, who like Johnson is a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, said the reason the Japanese governmen was compelled to ask for a postponement of the President's visit was that the Eisenhower administration "has let our strength decline steadily in recent years."

Adali E. Stevenson, Democratic presidential nominee in 1952-1956, said in a Chicago statement that the result of Eisenhower's visit, if carried out, "might well have been the fall of the Kishi government."

"So I think that the decision to postpone the trip was correct," Stevenson said. He added he was relieved that the danger to Eisenhower's safety had been removed.

Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, front-running candidate for this year's Democratic nomination for president, was asked during a visit to Cambridge, Mass., if he thought the development had cost the United States in prestige.

"I think it indicates the nature of the cold war," he replied.

Sedalia Lives Through Depressions To Mark 100th Birthday This Year

By RALPH H. JONES
The Sedalia Democrat

SEDALIA, Mo. (AP) — Despite war, two great depressions and numerous economic setbacks, Sedalia grew up to be 100 years old. The city's residents are observing the centennial year with the gusto of a group of 10-year-olds.

The city has centennial beards, a jail, shaving permits, souvenirs, shaving and cosmetic permits and wooden nickels. Many of the original beards have disappeared since the onset of warm weather, but enough remain to add a frontier atmosphere to the many centennial activities planned for the climax in October.

Sedalia got its start in October, 1860, amid the predictions of some narrow-minded pioneers the site would return to its status as Central Missouri prairieland. It was located on the so-called "Ridge Route" through Missouri, and the builders of railroads in those days favored what they called the "River Route" to build their lines to the west.

But Sedalians and Pettis County pioneers wanted a railroad. Some pledged two out of every five dollars they owned to support the cause.

The tracks reached the city about a year after it was founded. The line later became the Missouri Pacific and a few years afterward it established its shops which to this day employs several hundred persons.

Sedalia was well on the way to becoming a leading Missouri city when the Civil War broke out. It became a military post and was governed by the military forces of both sides for the next four years. There was no civil authority.

The city passed from side to side several times, but each time it escaped the sacking experienced by many captive cities.

After the war, Sedalia passed through all the phases of construction and re-construction. It suffered the "growing pains" along with other new cities. The city was particularly hard hit in the panic of 1893, and again in 1929. It has been stated that Sedalia was the hardest hit city of its size in the state in 1929-1932.

But it now looks as if Sedalia has emerged from a dormant stage. For the first time in 40 years the city's 1960 census showed an increase in population, pushing it above 23,000. The earliest census, in 1870, showed a population of 4,560. It reached a peak of 21,144 in 1920, but this slipped to 20,354 by 1950.

In the last decade many industries have moved here. In 1951 the old Sedalia Air Base was reactivated as the Whiteman Air Force Base, adding an economic shot in the arm. More than 2,000 new homes have been built since 1950. Bank deposits increased from $16,000,000 in 1950 to $27,000,000 at the end of 1959. Retail sales in 1959 were 25 per cent ahead of 1954.

The city has approved two big bond issues, one for street improvements, another for schools.

Sedalia is credited with being the home of ragtime music and an hour-long television spectacular is planned for next year about the city's part in the promotion of ragtime.

The main centennial celebration will be held in October and some have estimated the affair will bring more people here than the Missouri State Fair.

"This year will be a fast-moving period in Sedalia's history," said William C. Hopkins, president of Chamber of Commerce. "It will not only commemorate 100 years of existence, but it will be the end of a five or six year period which saw a rather tranquil little city transposed into a progressive and growing community. Many of the former residents who will be returning for the centennial celebration will no doubt be amazed at the transition."

The Weather

Fair Friday, cooler extreme southeast, warmer northwest, highs near 80 northwest and in 70s east and south; fair Friday night, warmer west and north; Saturday partly cloudy with chance of afternoon thunder showers northwest.

The temperature Thursday was 66 at 7 a.m. and 70 at 1 p.m. Low Wednesday night was 62; with .42 inches of rainfall.

High Cost of Handling

Volume of Checks Soaring; Banks Watching Pennies

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Banks, too, have to watch their own pennies. With both the volume of checks and the cost of clerical handling soaring, more banks around the nation are adopting or studying the use of machines to do this work automatically.

The Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond reports that while eight years ago the nation's banks handled around eight billion checks, this year they are expected to handle 14 billion, and by 1970 perhaps 22 billion. Often a single check is handled 10 to 20 times during its journey through several banks before the money involved is finally collected.

Others have estimated that just sorting checks alone costs banks 250 million dollars, occupying 475,000 clerks for 100 million man-hours.

The latest electronic check handling system is being put into use today in New York City by the Chemical Bank New York Trust Co. with equipment developed by Pitney-Bowes and the National Cash Register Co.

It is said to sort the checks, post them to the customer's account, prepare his monthly statement, turn out a record for the bank, and figure the customer's new balance—all electronically.

General Electric set up a bank automation system some time back for the Bank of America on the West Coast which by the end of 1961 is expected to handle electronically more than two million individual checking accounts. This electronic records method of accounting goes by the nickname of ERMA.

The American Banking Assn. management commission gave its blessing to use of magnetic ink containing iron oxide at the bottom of checks. This gives the customer's account number, and routing symbols and adds the amount of the check. each numeral gives a different signal when subjected to electric impulse, and when the lata is fed into a computer, the bank obtains totals, controls sorting and record-printing.

Officials of International Business Machines says its magnetic equipment will be delivered to 25 banks across the country by the end of this year.

A later development than magnetic ink character-recognition is a device called optical sensing which can scan ordinary typewritten characters.

When the Valley National Bank of Phoenix, Ariz., put in a electronic machine it had a naming contest by employes. Winner was George from "Let George do it." A runner up was Nitro, meaning "not intended to replace officers."

Severe Fighting Is Reported In Central Tibet

Editor's Note—Associated Press correspondent Henry S. Bradsher is on a trip to Bhutan, Himalayan kingdom between India and Tibet. This dispatch, dated May 27, was brought out by mule, the only transportation available.

By HENRY S. BRADSHER

PARO, Bhutan (AP) — Severe fighting between Tibetan guerrillas and Chinese Communists has occurred recently in south central Tibet.

Truckloads of Chinese dead have been brought by night into Gyantse, southwest of Lhasa. The number of Chinese killed is not known but is believed high.

Serious trouble for the Chinese is also reported in western Tibet, near the Ladakh area which both the Chinese and Indians claim. There are some indications but no confirmation that this trouble involves dissatisfaction and even defections among Chinese troops as well as clashes with Tibetan guerrillas.

The general picture, according to reports from usually reliable sources and from Tibetan refugees, is at upsurge of resistance to the Chinese this spring. Some sources describe the trouble as the most severe since the Chinese crushed the Tibetan uprising of a year ago.

These reports have reached this trade center in northwestern Bhutan, an independent kingdom. The information comes both from official sources in the border region and unofficial informants.

Rescued From Wine Cellar

Tommy the Horse Is Back Pulling His Fruit Cart

CHICAGO (AP) — You could hardly buy the services involved in rescuing Tommy from his predicament.

Maybe Julius Pekofsky couldn't have bought those services; maybe he wouldn't.

Tommy couldn't have bought his way out of his trouble; it looked like he didn't want to get out of it, anyway.

But, Tommy the Horse, whether he enjoyed his fling into the public's eye or not, is once more a member of the diminishing horsey set that pulls a fruit and vegetable cart.

Tommy's troubles started Monday when he fell down a stairway (or walked down) or fell through rotted boards into an unused, empty wine cellar. The first floor now is used as a stable.

Pekofsky, his owner, found him Tuesday, and when his own efforts to free Tommy failed called the anti-cruelty society for help.

J. J. Shaffer, managing director of the society, looked over the situation and decided Tommy might be enticed out of the cellar with hay and other horse goodies. None worked.

So engineers were called; they looked over the problem and decided to call:

Four pieces of fire department equipment; several police and squad cars; several civil defense rescue unit trucks; an assortment of construction crew men; a tow truck, a winch, block and tackle unit.

Tommy spent most of Tuesday and Wednesday placidly munching hay and drinking water.

A tarpaulin was stretched around his midsection and attached to a hoist; it slipped and anyway, Tommy refused to cooperate. Tommy remained in the cellar.

Workers covered Tommy with an asbestos blanket and others widened the opening above him. When the groundside workers encountered metal and concrete, acetelyne torches and pneumatic drills were used to enlarge the opening.

With the opening above Tommy now enlarged, a civil defense truck pulled up. From its rear a winch dropped a block and tackle above Tommy; a sling was stretched around Tommy's midsection again.

Slowly, inch by inch he was hoisted out of the cellar. When he emerged, a cheer went up from the assembled workers and onlookers.

HAS CASTRO INVADED HOUSTON?—Two bearded "soldiers" marching on a Houston, Tex., sidewalk aren't members of a Fidel Castro invading force. They're Jaycees Randy Shepler, left, and Foy Ingram, trying to get out the vote in the state primary. Signs around their necks remind passersby: "We can't vote in Cuba . . . BUT . . . you can . . ." At any rate, they gave everybody quite a start.

23-year-old Earhart Story Investigated

SAN MATEO, Calif. (AP) — Paul Mantz, longtime friend of Amelia Earhart, says he believes Mrs. Josephine Akiyama's story about seeing the famed woman flier as a Japanese captive on Saipan Island in 1937.

Miss Earhart and Frederick Noonan, her navigator, vanished on a world flight in July of 1937, en route from New Guinea to Howland Island in the Pacific.

"I believe Mrs. Akiyama's story and I shall continue to investigate," said Mantz, who was flight adviser for Miss Earhart's world flight attempt.

Mantz came to San Mateo from Catalina Island to interview Mrs. Akiyama, who was 11 years old at the time Miss Earhart was lost.

Mrs. Akiyama said she saw an American woman and an American man as prisoners of the Japanese after their plane crashed on a Saipan beach. She saw the wrecked plane. She heard that Miss Earhart and Noonan were executed by the Japanese on that Marianas island, which is north of Guam.

Mrs. Akiyama assured Mantz she would try to get former friends and neighbors on Saipan to corroborate her story.

"You must understand, we grew up in fear," she said. "Terrible things — punishment — happened to those who talked. I must persuade them that everything will be all right if they tell the truth."

Mantz declared he would keep trying to find out the facts of Miss Earhart's disappearance "until the day I die."

"If necessary, and if further facts develop to substantite her story, I shall fly to Saipan to complete my search for the final answer," Mantz said. "This mystery has been a complete blank for 23 years."

Mrs. Akiyama, married to a Japanese - born dental technician, came to the United States five years ago and has lived at San Mateo three years.

Time Is Near When Man Can Do Somethin' About the Weather

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The time may be coming—thanks to rockets and satellites—when man can finally do something about the weather.

So states Prof. Morris Neiburger, chairman of the department of meteorology at the University of Californi at Los Angeles.

He said the release of dust in the upper atmosphere or beyond might block enough radiation from the sun to counteract weather changes due to solar variations.

Neiburger, in a paper released Wednesday, told how rockets or satellites could be used for releasing the dust.

"If the particles were released in the stratosphere," he said, "the winds would quickly spread them over the earth and global effects would be attained."

War Criminal Whisked Out Of Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — The hollow cheeked and droopy-nosed man with the look of fear stepped from a bus in a Buenos Aires suburb.

He was one of a crowd of early evening commuters, on his way home from work to his wife and family. He never arrived.

Suddenly a car darted out of traffic. The man was dragged inside and whisked off.

Informants said this was the end of the 15-year manhunt across the world for Adolf Eichmann, a Jew killer of the Hitler era.

Israel, which now holds the 54-year-old former colonel of the Nazi SS, has announced Eichmann will stand trial for his part in the Nazi extermination of the six million Jews.

Israel has clamped a cover of secrecy on how its agents tracked down the war criminal. The generally accepted story is that he was trapped in Argentina and rushed out of the country May 12 or 13 on the plane that had brought Israel's delegation to the Argentine independence anniversary celebrations.

Reliable sources said that the fugitive Nazi had lived a life of fear on the run after Germany's defeat in World War II. They said he spent the last eight years in Latin America.

Informants said the once arrogant Nazi colonel "traveled from country to country. He changed jobs, he changed names. But wherever he went, he lived constantly in fear of being killed."

Eichmann was probably fingered inadvertently by his wife, Vera. Vienna reports say she turned up in Linz, Austria, in 1958 to renew her Austrian passport and Israeli agents followed her to her husband's hideout in Latin America

Union Will Seek New Fair Labor Standards Law

ST. LOUIS (AP)—President David J. Donald said Thursday his United Steelworkers Union would seek a new fair labor standards law embracing a four-day week with no loss of pay.

And, McDonald declared in a speech at the 22nd annual convention of the Communications workers of America, if the next Congress does not act promptly on the proposal the USW "will have no alternative but to press for the four-day week in our next contract negotiations."

McDonald said the shorter work week is needed to help meet the challenge of automation.

"The idea is neither radical nor impossible," he said.

"The 40-hour week served in the 30s but the laws that fit then no longer are adequate for the 1960s."

McDonald said his union believed the quickest way to achieve the four-day week for "all workers in all industries" was by legislation in the next Congress.

This year, "a political year, is an appropriate time to demand action on such a critical domestic issue," he said.

McDonald described automation as "a great boon to mankind," but he said it creates and contributes monumental problems. He said devices on the planning board conceivably could reduce America's work force from 70 to 10 million persons.

"Unfortunately, thus far leaders of government largely do not even acknowledge the existence of this great domestic problem (unemployment). Or wen it is brought to their attention, they tend to deprecate it."

The answer, he said, was the shorter work week.

Kishi told newsmen that "even if there is the slightest bit of doubt about the President's safety in Japan, it makes it inappropriate for him to visit at this time."

Eisenhower, in Manila, agreed.

Kishi, like Eisenhower, blamed Tokyo's wave of left-wing violence on a small group of Communist agitators, not representative of the Japanese public.

But security officials doubted this more and more as the rioting grew more violent in Tokyo.

Before leaving Manila, the President bound the United States closer to Philippine defense by pledging U. S. troops would come to the instant aid of that island nation in case of attack.

This represented a diplomatic success capping his personal triumph in Manila. Philippine officials, who want U. S. defense pledges in black and white, were delighted. One said: "This makes our cups brim over."

Eisenhower spent the last afternoon hours of his 2½-day visit at a rally of more than 100,000 cheering Filipinos in Luneta Park.

His face ruddy after two days under the Manila sun, he appeared relaxed. He sat with President Carlos P. Garcia of the Philippines under an oval roof shading the sun.
